Honokome, July 8rm 1912. CANTON continues to remain quiet, and it s very evident that the authorities there have the situation well in hand. According to a recent motification made by the Governor-General and the General commanding the troops, there are no fewer than twenty-seven regiments quartered in the ity, and over seventy regiments would be vailable in the event of an emergency. With so large a force it ought to be possible to preserve law and order in the city and throughout the province, if the army is loyal to the Government. Rumours have recently been current alleging that a movement is making considerable progress in the province aiming at provincial independence, and that the sympathy of some of the troops has been enlisted; but we are told by those who profess to know that the separatists form but an insignifipendence for Kwangtung, but like the turning from banishment. people generally in all the other provinces. they support the idea of a united China, James Johnston, Carnarvon Road. . on which is one of the things they fought for. Friday night, but were disturbed before They recognise that union is strength and disruption fatal weakness. It was to be expected that grave difficulties would have to be faced in the administration of the province. Among those which have arisen we may note the dispute between the executive and legislative authorities for power; the conflict between the auditing authority and the public works commission; the attitude of hostility to constituted authority shown by the disbanded soldiers, and last, Magistracy on Saturday with being in but by no means least, the grave disaffection | unlawful possession of twelve pieces of created by the depreciation of the Govern-silk valued $160, and the case was rement's currency. mony to the firmness of the administration of Canton that the city has been kept so quiet, notwithstanding the activity of the pirate chief, Wone We Shung, who appears have been industriously fomenting trouble. With the buge force at its disposal, it is strange that the Provincial Government should allow his mischievous operations to continue. It is interesting to note that while the Provincial Government | hours. RANDOM EFFLECTIONS.

Not for a long time has the Colony been so stirred as it was on Thursday When it was learned that a dastardly attempt had been made on the life of the new Governor shortly after he had landed and was being greeted by the populace. The feeling of indignation was universal but it was succeeded by one of thanksgiving that the attempt had been foiled and that His Excellency was spared to play the part that we all expect him to play in the future career of the Colony.

A remarkable feature of the occurrence was the number of different versions as to what actually happened. People who were eye-witnesses relate stories which, though substantially in agreement, have many differences, demonstrating the fact that if two people witness an accident they will not tell it alike. Of course, on this occasion there were many different points of view, and the angles of sight would doubtless explain some of the differences, but it is none the less remarkable that no event of such import ance was ever told in so many different

The calmness of His Excellency and the composure of Lady May in the moment of sudden danger were remarkable, a fact which was noted by the onlookers and appreciated at its true worth. If they of the Colony they would assuredly have won it on Thursday when they faced sudden death with the courage and unflinching bravery which so many generations of ancestors have done before. The finding of the Tribunal was that It was a sight which must have made a great impression upon Chinese and

> It is interesting to recall that that was not the only tight corner in which Sir Henry has been in in this Colony. When the New Territory was taken over some fourteen years ago the mandarins and villagers around Sheung Shiu did not take kindly to the change, and when Mr. May, as he then was, went out at the head of the police force, he was met with considerable hostility. Rumour was busy over the affair, and it was reported in the Home papers that the small force had been captured and killed and that their heads were affixed to the city gates. Fortunately, the brush with the villagers, though serious enough, was not | felt sure that law-abiding Chinese would quite so sanguinary as was made out, render assistance in maintaining good and our Governor still keeps his head on government in the Colony. his shoulders.

The Governor, in reply, thanked the deputation and said he knew at the time the crime was committed that it would be abhorrent to none more than to the Chinese community, and had at once attributed it either to some person having spite or to some members of the secret societies to whom the policy of the British Government in maintaining law and order was distasteful. REFERENCE IN ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH. At Divine Service in St. Joseph's Mgr. G. M. Spada, Pro-Vicar Apostolic, preached an eloquent sermon. The service was well attended by representatives of the civil and military communities. After commenting on the Gospel of the day, the rev. preacher continued :-- I am confident that I am voicing the unanimous and heartfest gratitude of the Catholics of Hongkong to Almighty God, for the providential deliverance of our new Governor, Sir Henry May, from a tragic death. In accordance with the dictates of our holy religion, we Catholics should be the first to stand up for the maintenance of law and order. We recognise that all lawfully constituted rulers are invested with God's authority, and a crime committed against them is a crime against the Almighty, and therefore it is that we deeply deplore and strongly condemn the attack on His Excellency as a crime not only against the law of the land, but also against the Divine Law. We therefore desire to-place on record our utter detestation and abhorrence of the dastardly attempt on His Excellency's life, and we all unite in fervent thanksgiving for the miraculous preservation of the life of one who has endeared himself to the hearts of all in this Colony.

HOME AND CHINA AFFAIRS. [FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

LONDON, June 12th.

A MISSIONARY EXHIBITION. An exhibition of great interest to mission enthusiasts was opened to-day at the Church House, Westminster, under the auspices of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, with the personal patronage of the Queen. This exhibition is designed to give to Londoners a sort of panorama of scenes illustrating mission work in all parts of the world, from China to British Columbia, from India to Japan and Corea. In the great hall of the Church House are a series of "courts," representing different countries where the Society is actively engaged. In another part of the building is a reproduction of one of the wards in a Chinese mission hospital: also a typical Chinese sick room, in contrast with the sweetness and light of medical arrangements. Pageants and tableaux fill a good part of the programme of amusements, scenes being included of India, China, Japan, Africa, Canada and Australasia. The LANE, CRAWFORD & Co., I Indian tableaux give special attention to the conditions of Indian life for women, while in the Chinese tableaux a contrast is drawn between the customs of old China and the newer methods introduced as a consequence of Christian enterprise. Over a thousand adult stewards and five hundred juveniles are giving their services to make the exhibition a success. MISSING VESSELS.

Already this year Lloyds have had to Glasgow sailing ship Queen Victoria. 16th last, with a cargo of nitrate for The United Kingdom, and has not been heard of since. The master of the Norwegian ship Marion, while making the same May being slightly over £200,000, as compared with £4,111,000 for the first four months of the year. June has made a bad beginning, as apart from other troubles the fire on the Carmania is expected to cost about £50,000, while the vessel will be out of commission for six weeks. Shipping people and a good many experienced travellers agree with the White Star director's statement in the witness box at the Titanic enquiry the other day that it is not practicable to take boats enough for all and that people who go to sea take certain risks, but they are nowadays reduced to a minimum. But the disaster to the White Star leviathan will bring about better provision. there is no doubt at all about that, and the assurance of 24 hours' attention to the Marconi instrument will obviate much of the danger also. Moreover, there will be the additional security on the Cunard boats of a new officer, to be called a staff captain, to relieve the commander from time to time.

NAVAL SHIPBUILDING ERRORS. naval shipbuilding has revealed some operations on all the others, for I took remarkable facts as to errors in the construction of Dreadnoughts. Though a sort of denial has been issued, it is pretty well established that the first Austrian Dreadnought, the Viribus Unitis, suffers from considerable miscalculations in her design. It seems that in calculating the weight of the twelve 12 inch guns, which are to be mounted in four triple turrets, the weight of the mountings was forgotten. The difference amounts to twenty tons

HOUSE STREET.

It was in 1769 that one, Gordon, bent on adventuring his fortunes in the City of London, was attracted by what the celebrated Sergeant Buzfaz described as the tranquillity and retirement of Goswell Street. There Gordon acquired the substantial house now known as 132, Goswell Road, and there he erected those additional buildings necessary for the purposes of a rectifying distillery and cordial manufactory, which remain practically unaltered to this day. The recipe of the O iginal Gordon has been in use for nearly 150 years and the business has been carried on with unbroken continuity under six successive sovereigns.

TO-DAY

The Remington Typewriter Factory is working all day and all night, and Mr A. T. Barberini is six thousand machines behind in Mr E. R. Bate

The extensive enlargements to this Mr C. D. J. Bell factory, recently completed, have Mr G. A. Bena already proved inadequate to supply Mr & Mrs J. E. Bingthe rapidly increasing demand for the Visible Remington Models, and Mr N. b'. Blanch contracts have just been let for Mr H. C. Colman another and even vaster addition Mr G. P. Curry to the works.

For 10 months of 1911 our business has been larger than for the whole 12 months of any year since the beginning.
